

Great Crested Newts colouring activity

Did you know that Milton Keynes has some very special neighbours? Before the town was built it was discovered that the European protected species – the Great Crested Newts were living there. Milton Keynes have worked hard to ensure that these creatures are protected and not disturbed in their natural habitat.

You may have seen the newt signs around the edges of Fairfields and Whitehouse

The great crested newts look like mini dinosaurs with their long striking jagged crest along the body.

Have a go at colouring in your great crested newt, what colours and patterns would yours have?
